THE WHOLE OF HIS DRAMATIC WORKS;

LONDON, Printed for JOHN STOCKDALE, opposite Burlington-house, Piccadilly.

To the P U B L I C.

*** The unrivalled Excellence of Shakspeare is universally acknowledged. As a Poet, he abounds in Sublimities; and as a Dramatist, his principal Characters are most masterly drawn. But the Number of Volumes which the various Editions of his Works have contained, by enhancing the Price hath prevented this admired Author from being generally read; the middling Class of People contenting themselves with a Perusal of those detached Plays to which they have been familiarized by Theatric Representation. To comprize the whole of Shakspeare's Works in a single Volume, and to publish that Volume at a moderate Price, was considered as an Undertaking of Utility. In the present Edition of Shakspeare every thing is included which the numerous Editors of this admirable Author thought it necessary to collect. The Last Will of Shakspeare, his Life written by ROWE, and such Notes as tend to elucidate obscure Passages, or explain obsolete Words, are inserted in the Edition now offered to the Public; which is so calculated for general Accommodation, that, being of a portable Size, it may find a Place in a Carriage on a Journey; or, considered as a Substitute for the various and extravagant Editions of Shakspeare, it will furnish Readers of every Denomination with the Works of the sublimest Genius this Country has produced, at an easy, and, comparatively speaking, trivial Expence.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THIS Edition contains a List of the late and present House of Commons, shewing the Changes made in the Members of Parliament by the General Elections in 1780 and 1781. And it is further improved with the Additions of the Date when each City and Borough first sent Representatives to Parliament, the Right of Election in each Place, and the supposed Number of Electors. Where the Right of Election has been ascertained by a Resolution of the House of Commons, the Date of that Resolution is given. Where there is no Date to the Right of Election, there has been no Resolution of the House upon it; and the Custom, which is given, is still adhered to. The supposed Number of Electors follow:

EXPLANATION.

Abingdon first sent Representatives to Parliament in the Year of the Reign of Philip and Mary. The Right of Election is in the Inhabitants not receiving Alms, or any Charity by a Resolution of the House of Commons of the 18th of January, 1708. The supposed Number of Voters is 600.

Respecting the Lists of Changes in all the great Offices, a Rule laid down, and pursued, in this little Book, is, to give first, the Person or Persons who held this or that Department at the Accession of the present King, and then the Changes or Alterations, which have been since made, with their Dates.

No Pains have been spared to be as accurate as possible: but Notice of any Errors will at all Times be thankfully received by the Publisher; together with any Hints for Improvement.

From an attentive consideration of the above state, which is drawn up with as much accuracy as possible, from the Rolls and Journals of both Houses of Parliament, the following facts may be deduced :

In the first place it appears, that since the year 1509, (when it is generally supposed that the duration of Parliaments was extended beyond one year) only four Parliaments have existed beyond seven years, and that only seven more have had a sexennial duration.

In the second place, it is sufficiently evident, that of the rest only five Parliaments have lasted above five years; only two Parliaments above four, and but two above three.

Thirdly, of the remaining number, only nine existed above two years, and no less than thirty-four for a shorter period.

Lastly, it is certain, that, one Parliament with another, the duration of each since the reign of Henry the Seventh, does not exceed the space of two years and about nine months, even including the long Parliament in the reign of King Charles the First, and the still longer one which his son retained in existence for the enormous period of about seventeen years.

LORD CHANCELLOR.

[The office of the Lord Chancellor is to keep the great seal ;

not to judge according to the common law, as other could, but to dispense with such parts as seem in some cases oppress the subject; and to judge according to equity, conscience and reason. Wherefore he is said to have two powers, one absolute, the other ordinary: the meaning of which is, he must observe the form of proceeding in other courts; yet, in his absolute power, he is not limited by the written law, but in conscience and equity. He may issue writs habeas corpus at all times. He has power to collate to ecclesiastical benefices in the King's gift, rated under 20*l.* annum in the King's books. His oath is to do justice to persons, poor and rich; the King truly to counsel, and keep the King's counsel, and not to suffer the rights of Crown to be any ways diminished. ## SECRETARIES OF STATE.

[Until the reign of Henry VIII. there was only one Secretary of State; and until the reign of Elizabeth, the Secretaries were never of the privy council. From that time to the present, there have been two Secretaries of State, and sometimes three, and thus council has seldom been held without the presence of at least one of them. From the death of Queen Anne to the rebellion of 1745, there was a third Secretary for Scotland; and from 1768, to the loss of America in 1782, there was one for the colonies. The departments of the two Secretaries are divided into one foreign, the other domestic. With the home Secretary, all grants, pardons, and regulations in civil matters of every kind, are made out and executed. To the foreign Secretary belong all dispatches to and from other courts, and all business appertaining to the same. They have the custody of the privy signet, because the King's private letters are sealed with it. There are four clerks of the signet who make out grants, patents, &c. which have the sign manual, to which the signet being added, it is a warrant to the privy seal; as the privy seal is a warrant to the great seal. The paper-office belongs to the Secretaries of State, where all papers, letters, memorials, negotiations, are deposited and preserved.]

[The power of Lord High Admiral hath, since the reign of Queen Anne, been executed by commissioners. The stat. of Charles II. ascertains his authority in these words: "That the Lord High Admiral for the time being shall have full power and authority to grant commissions to inferior vice admirals or commanders in chief of any squadron of ships; to call and assemble courts martial consisting of commanders and captains; and no court martial, where pains of death shall be inflicted, shall consist of less than five captains at least; the admiral's lieutenant to be as to this purpose esteemed as a captain; and in no case wherein sentence of death shall pass by the articles for regulating the government of his Majesty's ships of war or any of them), except mutiny, there shall be execution of such sentence without leave of the Lord High Admiral, if the offence be committed in narrow seas. But in case any of the offences aforesaid be committed in any voyage beyond the narrow seas, then execution shall be done by order of the commander in chief. He appoints coroners to view dead bodies found on the coasts, and judges in the High Court of Admiralty. To him belong all fines and forfeitures of all transgressions at sea, and at the sea shore; and in ports from the first bridge on rivers to the sea, goods of pirates, waifs, wrecks, &c.]

A P P E N D I X.

The case was, that Mr. Mayor at the time of the election was high sheriff for the county of Berks, and he returned himself duly elected, in manifest prejudice of the petitioner, who being the only candidate capable of being elected, was duly chosen, and ought to have been returned. There were two points therefore in this case: 1. Whether the high sheriff of a county may be chosen to serve in parliament for a borough within his county? 2. Whether, if he is not eligible, on such notice as was given in the present case, the votes for him are thrown away, and the other candidate who had a smaller number of legal votes duly elected, or whether it is a void election?

The counsel for the petitioner argued, that by an express clause in the writ of election, the choice of sheriffs is prohibited, and they quoted several eminent authorities, Sir Simon D'Ewes, Mr. Hakewell, Lord Chief Justice Hale, Mr. Justice Blackstone, &c. to move that it had been constantly the law of parliament to prohibit sheriffs from being chosen either for county or borough within the county. The counsel for the sitting member said that the authority of civil writ was unquestionable, but it was not so with political writs. They rather testify, and particularly the writs of election, the tyranny of our kings, and the arbitrary power they assumed in former periods of the constitution, than afford any evidence of the law. And they shewed that there were many directions in the writ which were not complied with. If the prohibition were strictly to be adhered to, a sheriff for one county could not be chosen knight of the shire for another; but that would not be asserted in the present day; then if they are eligible for any other county, why should they not be for boroughs in their own.

The Committee decided, that neither the sitting member nor the petitioner were duly elected, and that the election was void.

Case of the city and county of the city of BRISTOL.—Petitioners, Matthew Bricklade, Esq. certain freeholders and free burgesses of the city and county of the city of BRISTOL. Against, Henry Cruger the younger, Esq. and Edmund Burke, Esq. sitting members.

The petitions set forth that the election was holden on the 7th of October, and that at the election the petitioner, Mr. Bricklade, together with Robert Craggs, Lord Viscount Clare, of the kingdom of Ireland, and Henry Cruger the younger, Esq. and no other persons, were candidates; that a poll was then demanded for each of the three candidates, proceeded upon, and adjourned to the following day; that on the succeeding day, Lord Clare declined proceeding on the poll; and that Mr. Bricklade, the petitioner, having that day a majority of votes, ought to have been declared duly elected, and to have been returned; but that Edmund Burke, Esq. was on the same day, the 8th of October, first named a candidate; that the sheriff afterwards, on the 10th of October, and not before, awarded a poll to be taken for Mr. Burke, notwithstanding the protestation of Mr. Bricklade, and many of the electors, to the contrary.

That, in order to influence the election, many persons were admitted to the freedom of the city, after the date and issuing forth of the writ, to poll for Mr. Burke and Mr. Cruger. That divers persons not legally admitted to this freedom, nor having any right to vote, were admitted to poll for Mr. Burke and Mr. Cruger; and that Mr. Burke and Mr. Cruger, by themselves, and their agents and others by their privity and direction, before and during the poll, were guilty of bribery.

From these allegations, it appeared that there were several questions in the case.

1. Whether a person may be elected who becomes a candidate on a day subsequent to that on which the election was appointed to be holden, and on which the poll commenced?

2. Whether persons admitted to the freedom of the city of Bristol after the date and issuing of the writ for the election of members of parliament for that city, have a right to vote at such election?

3. Whether Mr. Burke and Mr. Cruger, or either of them, were guilty of bribery?

The committee proceeded to the discussion of the first of these questions, and after hearing the arguments of counsel pro and con, declared Mr. Burke was eligible.

They then proceeded to the remainder of the case. The House had made no determination on the right of election in Bristol; but it seemed to be taken for granted on both sides, that it is "in the freeholders, having freeholds of forty shillings a year, and the free burghesses." To prove that it had been the custom not to admit persons made free after the teste, several witnesses were called, and many arguments stated, which were answered by the counsel for the sitting members; and an attempt was made to support the allegations of bribery: they said that a number of gentlemen paid the fees of admission for the new freemen, with money raised by subscription for that purpose, but neither of the candidates had subscribed or paid any of that money. This charge was answered by an assertion that as there was no proof of bribery brought home to them, no condition had been annexed to the payment of their fees of admission; they were not bound to vote for the sitting members upon that account; it was therefore perfectly innocent on the part of those who had done it; but there had been no proof attempted of any money being paid by the sitting members for admission fees.

The committee declared the two sitting members to be duly elected.

Case of the Borough of BEDFORD.—Petitioners, Samuel Whitbread, Esq. and John Howard, Esq. certain burghesses, freemen and inhabitants, being freeholders of Bedford, and electors for that borough.—
Sitting

The petition of Mr. Whitbread and Mr. Howard contained a charge of bribery against the sitting members; and the other petition alledged, that the mayor, aldermen, and other officers of the borough, had, previous to the election, got a majority of pretended electors under their own influence, with a design to render the election subservient to the will of the corporation: that they had corruptly made offers to one or more persons to procure them to be elected members, in consideration of a large sum of money to be paid to them; and that John Cawney, John Rose, and Thomas Howard, the returning officers, had been guilty of corrupt, partial, and illegal practices.

The last determination of the House on the right of election in Bedford, is on the 12th of April, 1690. The difference between a burges and a freeman in Bedford is, that all the sons of a burges are entitled to be burgeses, and only the eldest son of a freeman is entitled to be a freeman. The magistrates are all chosen out of the burgeses. There were several questions in this case upon the construction of the last determination. 1st Point. The counsel for the petitioners contended, that the expression "being householders of Bedford," was to be applied as well to the burgeses and freemen as to the inhabitants; or, in other words, that non-resident burgeses and freemen have no right to vote. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the committee came to a resolution, "that in their opinion the words being householders of Bedford, contained in the resolution of the House of Commons, of 12 April, 1690, do not refer to the burgesses and freemen, but to the inhabitants only."

2d Point. The petitioners contended, that all the non-resident freemen and burgeses were honorary and occasional. On this the committee declared, "that they were clear in their opinion, that the objection of occasionality did not lie against freemen made above a year before the election." They did not determine on the point of honorary freemen.

The next point was, whether persons having received of a charity called Harpur's charity, within a year before the election, were entitled to vote, or whether they were disqualified under the words receiving alms? After hearing the arguments of both sides, and referring to the acts and precedents, "the committee were of opinion, that persons receiving Sir William Harpur's charity are not thereby disqualified, within the meaning of the determination of 12 April, 1690, from voting for members of parliament for Bedford."

The next point was, that thirty-six votes should be added to the poll of the petitioners, who had been rejected because they had come into the parishes where they resided in Bedford, with certificates from other parishes. This was agreed to. They then proceeded to trace bribery on the sitting members. The counsel for the sitting members objected to the votes of 1. Persons having received Hawes's charity. 2. Persons having received Weiborn's charity. 3. The master and brethren of an hospital called St. John's Hospital. 4. Freemen who had received parish relief within the year. And 5. Freemen who had an incoherate right to their freedom, but were admitted in a particular manner, different from the customary mode of admission for such freemen, and within a year before the election. On these heads the committee determined, 1. That the persons receiving Hawes's charity were not disqualified. 2. That their receiving Welborn's charity were disqualified. 3. That the master and brethren of St. John's Hospital were not disqualified. 4. That the word alms, in the resolution of 1690, refers to burghesses and freemen as well as to inhabitants householders of Bedford. And 5. That the six persons who tendered their votes at the last election for Bedford, being admitted within the twelvemonth by the common council, had not a right to vote.

And finally, having corrected the polls by these several resolutions, they determined that Sir William Wake, Bart. one of the sitting members, and Samuel Whitbread, Esq. one of the petitioners, were duly elected.

Case of the Borough of CRICKLADE.—Petitioners, Samuel Peach, Esq. and John Dewar, Esq.

A vacancy having happened in the borough in the month of December after the general election, by the death of Mr. Earle, a new writ was ordered out, and Mr. Dewar and Mr. Peach were both returned by the same indenture. Mr. Dewar's petition set forth, that he had a great majority of legal votes; but that, notwithstanding, the returning officer, Thomas Carter, had returned Mr. Peach along with the petitioner. Mr. Peach in his petition set forth, that on the second day of the election, as the returning officer, the candidates, and electors, were proceeding to the place of polling, a riot commenced, which obliged the returning officer immediately to close the poll, when only forty-one out of near two hundred persons entitled to vote had given their suffrages; and that on that account Mr. Dewar and the petitioner were returned. That the petitioner was by reason thereof prevented from receiving the suffrages of a large majority of the electors.—That Mr. Dewar, or his agents, had, by entertainments and feasts daily given at their expence to the electors, endeavoured to procure votes, and had kept the borough in continual riot, tumult, and dissipation.

The returning officer was in the interest of Peach, and he was attended by a barrister retained by Peach, who dictated to him in every instance. The counsel said he was guided entirely by one King, a blacksmith, as to the right of the several voters who presented themselves. It was attempted to be proved, that Peach's friends and the returning officer had agreed, that if any disturbance should happen, and Peach be a-head, they would close the poll instantly, and make a single return. On the second day a sort of scuffle happened at the church door, between Mr. Herbert, a member of the House of Commons, and Mr. Benson, a merchant in London. Benson pushed Herbert from the door as he endeavoured to enter, on which Herbert collared him. The scuffle continuing, several of Peach's friends cried out " a riot ! a riot ! " On this the counsel for the returning officer directed him to close the poll, which he did, and they left the church together, altho' earnestly entreated by Dewar and his friends to remain. The witnesses for Mr. Dewar swore, that there was not any thing like a riot or disturbance, sufficient to terrify any reasonable man. When the poll was closed, Mr. Herbert went to the returning officer, and intreated him to renew it, promising to give any security he should require, that he would not molest Benson, nor occasion any disturbance ; and desiring, if it were thought necessary, that both Benson and he might be committed till the election should be over. But the returning officer and his counsel absolutely refused to open the poll again. On this, the electors in the interest of Mr. Dewar went and gave their voices for him before a constable ; Mr. Peach's friends being apprized of this poll, but none of them came.

After hearing the arguments of the counsel, the committee, after long deliberation, resolved that the constable's poll should not be given in evidence, nor parole evidence be admitted to prove what persons polled before the constable. And, finally, they determined, that neither Mr. Peach, nor Mr. Dewar were duly returned, and that the election for the borough of Cricklade was a void election.

Second Case of the Borough of CRICKLADE.—Petitioners, six persons on the behalf of themselves and others, electors of the said borough.—Fourteen persons on behalf of themselves, and others, electors of the said borough.—Sitting member, Samuel Peach, Esq.

The petitions stated, that the returning officers had acted with the grossest partiality. The six electors complained, that they and many others, duly qualified, offered to give their votes for John Dewar, Esq. but were rejected by the returning officer—both the petitions stated that many votes were partially admitted for Mr. Peach, which stood precisely in the same predicament with many which he rejected, when offered for Mr. Dewar ; and that he admitted many for Mr. Peach who had no right to vote. There is no determination of the House, on the right of election in this borough, but the following entry stands, " 22. Feb. 1695 6, Colonel Granville reports from the committee of privileges and elections, that it was agreed, that the right of election for Cricklade, was in the freeholders, copyholders, and leaseholders, for not less than three years." The counsel for the petitioners contended, that the boundaries of the borough extended beyond the line adopted on the part of the sitting member, and that seven houses for which votes had been tendered in favour of Dewar and rejected on the ground of their being without, are within the boundaries. On the other side again it was urged, that the true limits of the borough excluded these seven houses. Particular evidence was gone into, to ascertain the boundaries. The next part urged by the counsel for the petitioners was, that it was not necessary that the houses, for which votes were claimed, should either be ancient houses, or built on ancient sites, but that a sufficient estate in any house within the borough give a right to vote. This was denied by the other side—they said, that only ancient houses, or houses built on ancient sites, gave a right to vote. Many witnesses were called, who proved that they had never, before this election, heard a distinction made between new and old houses. The third point urged by the counsel for the petitioners was, “ that leaseholders for a term of three years or more, determinable on a life or lives, and persons having a lease for that or a longer time granted by lessors, who have themselves leases for three or more years, but determinable on a life or lives, have a right to vote.” This was admitted by the counsel for the sitting member, after having heard the evidence. It was then contended, that residence of 40 days before the election was necessary to give a person a title to vote. Witnesses were called to prove, that this was understood to be the usage. After this, they entered into evidence to prove the gross partiality of the returning officer, and to bring home a charge of bribery on the sitting member. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the committee came to the following resolution: Resolved, “ That it is the opinion of this committee, that the right of voting for members to serve in parliament, for the borough of Cricklade, in the county of Wilts, is, in the inhabitants possessing houses within the said borough, who are freeholders, copyholders, or leaseholders, for any term not less than three years, or for any such term, or greater term, determinable on a life or lives; such freeholder, copyholder, or leaseholder, having been in the occupation of the house, for which he may claim to vote, forty days preceding any election.”

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, that the seven houses above-mentioned are within the boundary of the said borough.

By these resolutions, all the points of the petitioners were granted, and a majority was established for Mr. Dewar.—The counsel for the sitting member said, they would give the committee no farther trouble. They then determined that John Dewar, Esq. was duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

Case of the Borough of DORCHESTER—Petitioners, Anthony Chapman, Esq. several inhabitants and electors of the borough of Dorchester.—Sitting members, William Ewar, Esq. and John Damer, Esq.

The petitions set forth, in general, that the petitioner had a majority of legal votes, and ought to have been returned, and alledged specially—that divers persons were admitted to vote, who were neither “ inhabitants, nor occupiers of real estates within the borough,” and had no right. The last determination of the right of election in the borough was 18th May, 1720. “ Resolved, that the right of electing burghesses to serve in parliament for the borough of Dorchester, in the county of Dorset, is in the inhabitants of the said borough, paying to church and poor in respect of their personal estates; and in such persons as pay to church and poor in respect of their real estates within the said borough.”—The counsel for the petitioners contended, that the last clause for the determination means only, “ such as are occupiers of real estates within the the borough; and in respect thereof, pay to church and poor."—The counsel for the sitting members contended, that it means, "owners of real estates within the borough, paying in respect thereof to church and poor, whether such real estates are in their own occupations or not."—The usage since 1720 was admitted to be in favour of out-voters.—The counsel for the petitioners contended, that the poor-rate, and church-rate, is a tax upon inhabitants or occupiers only, and not upon landlords, and the votes in Dorchester have always been intitled, "Rates on the several occupiers of lands, houses, &c." In 1772, an attempt was made to alter the words in the title, and to make it run, "Rates on the several owners or occupiers, &c." but these words were rescinded at the vestry holden for the purpose, and the customary title restored.—On the other side it was contended, that the resolution in 1720 did not mention persons, rate or rateable, but persons paying to church and poor. In Dorchester, as in most other places, the established usage is, that the owner pays the the poor-rate; and when there is reason to apprehend the occupier to be in danger of becoming chargeable to the parish, they frequently rate the owner.—It was the same also with respect to the church-rate, for the purpose of supporting or repairing the edifice. Dorchester, they said, was a borough by prescription, and the determination of 1720 must be considered as a declaration of the prescriptive right of election. It ought not, therefore, to be instructed with any reference to the statutes of Queen Elizabeth.

The counsel having closed their arguments on the meaning of the last determination, the committee came to the following resolution:—Resolved, "That it is the opinion of this committee that, pursuant to the last determination of the House of Commons, such persons as pay to the church and poor, in respect of their real estates within the borough of Dorchester, in the county of Dorset, though not inhabitants or occupiers, were intitled to vote at the last election of burgesses to serve in parliament for the said borough." The committee then decided, that the two sitting members were duly elected.

Case of the Borough of DERBY.—Petitioners, Daniel Parker Coke, Esq. several electors of Derby.—Sitting member, John Gisborne, Esq.

Mr. Coke, in his petition, set forth, that he was elected by a great majority of legal votes, but that the mayor, by rejecting the votes of many persons who had an undoubted right to poll, and who tendered their votes for him, and by admitting for Mr. Gisborne the votes of divers persons who had no right, the sitting member was returned. The other petition set forth, that the petitioners and divers others, having a lawful and undoubted right to the freedom of the said borough, had claimed to be admitted previous to the election, and were, by the mayor and divers aldermen refused, although several persons under the like circumstances had been admitted. There is no determination of the right of election in Derby, by the House of Commons; but the counsel fel on both fides agreed, that every member of the corporation has a right to vote. The numbers on the poll were,

For Mr. Gilborne,	—	343
For Mr. Coke	—	329

Majority

but the counfel for the petitioner propofed to add 42 to the poll of Mr. Coke, &c. 26, who being entitled to their freedom, had demanded admission before the election, and having been refufed, had tendered their votes at the poll, in favour of Mr. Coke; 12 under the fame circumftances, but who had demanded to be admitted on different occafions.

Four who had their freedom, but whose votes were rejected by the mayor. They alfo propofed to ftrike off 16 from the poll in the fitting member; 5 who lived in Derby Hofpital—3 for having received parifh relief—3 honorary burgefles admitted within the year—3 who had been admitted burgefles under the title of fervitude, without having ferved a feven years apprenticeship—2 who were never admitted to their freedom. But it was only neceffary for the committee to hear evidence and decide concerning the votes of the 26, who claiming by antecedent titles, had demanded admission to their freedom, and having been refufed, had tendered their votes for Mr. Coke. The difpute was about the mode of admission—their pretentions were agreed to.—The counfel for the petitioners argued, that by the exprefs provision of the charter, the perfons appointer to admit freemen, are the mayor and three aldermen. On the part of Mr. Gilborne, it was denied that this was the legal mode of admission. The clause in the charter did not fatisfy fuch a mode, and the committee on this point refolved, “ that the clauses in the charter, which have been produced to the committee, have not fo eftablifhed the mode of admission of the freemen of this borough as to exclude other evidence.” When this long courfe of evidence was gone into, to prove, in the firft place, that it was ufual to admit the burgefles at a common hall, and this ufage was authorized by a bye-law, made on the 10th of December, 1743; but, in the year 1772, the charter having been examined by fome lawyers, he conftrued the clause mentioned by the petitioners to mean what they had ftated it, and from that period, till the time of the election, freemen had been admitted by the mayor and aldermen. Upon this the counfel for the petitioners argued, that if the constitution was not as they had apprehended, ftill, as it was univerfally underftood at that time to be the constitution of the borough, having applied to thofe who were at leaft the proper perfons to adminifter the preliminary oaths—having been promifed their admissions—put off from time to time—and at laft refufed by the mayor, with a view to deprive them of their votes (he knowing them to be in the intereft of Mr. Coke)—they were intitled to be put upon the poll. Of thefe assertions very adequate proof was brought, and their pretentions enquired into. On which, after hearing the arguments of counfel, the committee refolved, “ that all the 27 voters in queftion, except Wil-am Sale, ought to be added to the poll,"—and, after this, the sitting member having said, by his counsel, he would give the committee no further trouble, the petitioner was declared to be duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

Case of the Borough of DOWNTON.—Petitioners, Sir Philip Hales, Bart. and John Cooper, Esq. certain Freeholders of the borough of DOWNTON. Against, Thomas Dunsombe, Esq. and Thomas Dummer, Esq. sitting members.

The petition set forth, that several persons were allowed to vote at the late election of burgessees for this place, who had no right, by which means a pretended majority was procured in favour of the sitting members, and they were returned, although the petitioners, Hales and Cooper, had a clear majority of legal votes.

There is no determination of the House of the right of election of this borough. Both sides considered it to be "in persons having a freehold interest in burgage in tenements, holden by a certain rent, fealty, and suit of court, of the Bishop of Winchester, who is lord of the borough, and paying release on descent, and fines on alienation."

The numbers on the poll were

For Mr. Duncombe	22
Mr. Dummer	22
Mr. Cooper	11
Sir Philip Hales	10

The counsel for the petitioners objected to nineteen or twenty of the votes for the sitting members; one general objection which applied to most of them was occasionality. Mr. Duncombe was proprietor of near two thirds of the burgage tenements in Downton—It was proved, that in 1768 he had made conveyances to some of the voters; but the deeds had remained ever since in his hands; the occupiers had continued to pay their rents to him, and still considered him as their landlord. There were no entries on the court-rolls of 1768 of those conveyances, nor of the payment of the alienation fines. The conveyances to others appeared to have been made after the writ and precept had issued, some of them being brought wet to the poll. The grantees did not know where the lands lay, and one man produced at the poll a grant for which he claimed a vote, which, on examination, appeared to be made to another person; the consideration in them all was five shillings; the rent twenty shillings a year; they were by lease and release, for life, with a clause of re-entry, if the grantee should assign without the consent of the grantor. These kind of votes were called faggots. The petitioners contended, that the votes in question were colourable, fraudulent and void, both by the common law of Parliament, and the statute of William III. commonly called the Splitting Act. Beside the general objection of occasionality, fourteen of the votes for the sitting members were impeached, for reasons drawn from the nature of burgage tenements; they defined a burgage to be "one undivided and indivisible tenement, clearly described, neither created nor capable of being created, within within time of memory, which has immemorially given a right voting." It was shewn that by the pipe-roll of 1458, the amount of the burgages, half-burgages, and quarter-burgages in the borough stated to be 126 and three quarters, amounting to 6l. 6s. 2d.—the rate for the whole of a burgage is one shilling, for half a burgage sixpence and for a quarter of a burgage three pence; a quarter of a burgage, an half of a burgage, are technical terms, and not expressive of the four parts or the halves of whole burgages, but of distinct and separate tenements of various extent, and apparently so called, because the quit-rents they pay to the lord are halves or quarters of what whole burgages paid; they proved that these fourteen votes were not ancient quarters of burgages carrying immemorially a right of voting, but for quarters of burgages attempted to be carved out of longer tenements.

After hearing the arguments of counsel on both sides, resolved That Thomas Duncombe, Esq. and Thomas Dummer, Esq. were duly elected; and that Sir Philip Hales, Bart. and John Cooper, Esq. ought to have been returned the burgesses for the borough.

Case of the Borough of HASLEMERE.—Petitioners, William Burr Esq. and Henry Kelly, Esq. certain inhabitants, freeholders and legal voters of the borough of HASLEMERE.—Sitting members, Thomas More Molyneux, Esq. Sir Meyrick Burrell, Bart.

The first petition stated, that the two sitting members had been guilty of undue and illegal practices—that votes had been admitted though not legal, for the sitting members; and that the majority of legal votes were in favour of the petitioners. The other petition stated, that Haslemere is a borough by prescription, and that of late years, the practice of splitting and dividing freeholds within the said borough, for election purposes, hath prevailed to so great a degree, that if the same is not remedied, the constitution of the said borough would be subverted. It stated many illegal instances of voting in favour of the sitting members.

The last determination of the House of the right of election was May 20, 1661. This was explained by a resolution of the House of the 24th April, 1755.

The counsel for the petitioners objected to 47 out of 61 of the votes for the sitting members. To 35 as voting for tenements split with the meaning of the statute of King William. Six as claiming the right from freeholds without the manor. One, his property being leasehold. Two, as having no interest, but a rent reserved as a tenant. Three, as not having freeholds.

A variety of evidence and argument was gone into on these heads but as the committee did not come to separate resolutions on the several questions, we cannot state what the point was on which the division turned. They declared the two sitting members to be duly elected.

of the Borough of HINDON.—Petitioners, James Calthorpe, Esq. and Richard Beckford, Esq. against Richard Smith, Esq. and Thomas Brand Hollis, Esq. sitting members.

The petition set forth, that the two sitting members had, by the very of themselves and agents, previous to, and during the election, procured themselves to be returned, although the petitioners were duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

The last determination of the House on the right of election in this borough, was on the 12th April, 1728. After hearing the evidence, the committee determined, that neither the sitting members nor the petitioners had been duly elected, and that the election was void. At the same time the chairman acquainted the House, that it appeared to the committee that the most flagrant and notorious acts of bribery and corruption had been practised; and that a very considerable majority of electors of the borough of Hindon had been bribed and corrupted in every gross and extraordinary manner; and that several others of the electors had been concerned as agents for that purpose. In consequence of this the committee had resolved, "That it appeared to them that Richard Smith, Esq. by his agents, had been guilty of notorious bribery, in endeavouring to procure himself to be elected and returned as a member, to serve in this present parliament, for the borough of Hindon, in the county of Wilts."

Similar resolutions passed respecting Mr. Hollis, Mr. Calthorpe, Mr. Beckford.

They also resolved, that the Rev. John Nairne, of Hindon, Fasham Nairne, Esq. of Bury-street, St. James's, &c. (in all thirteen specified by name) had acted as agents; and had been accessory to, and concerned in, the notorious acts of bribery and corruption that have been committed at the last election for the said borough of Hindon.

They also came to a resolution, that it was the opinion of the committee, that the House should be moved for leave to bring in a bill to franchise the said borough of Hindon, in the county of Wilts.

The House was accordingly moved, and the previous question being put, it passed in the negative. It was then ordered, that leave be given to bring in a bill to incapacitate from voting at elections of members of parliament 190 persons, specified by name, out of 210 who had voted at the election. This bill was brought into the House, and after having passed through several stages, it was found, when referred to a committee of the whole House, that the bribery and corruption could not be proved, as the persons who had proved it before the select committee were named in the bill, and incapacitated by it; and being parties could not, without overturning the known rules of law, be received as witnesses. This objection was treated as of no weight by the gentlemen of the long robe; but it was strenuously supported by others, and the bill was thrown out.

Leave was then given to bring in a new bill, similar to the former, which the names of certain persons were left out, who were intended to be made use of as witnesses. Many difficulties were also in the way of this bill. Two witnesses were committed to prison for prevarication and two disobeyed the order for their attendance, and kept themselves concealed, on which a proclamation was made for apprehending them with the offer of a reward, and the House was obliged to postpone the farther consideration of it for that session; but the House resolved to take the report of the committee into farther consideration as early as possible in the next session; and that until then no new writ should be ordered. At the same time they resolved, "That if it shall appear that any person hath procured himself to be elected, or returned a member of this House, or endeavoured so to be by bribery, or any other corrupt practices, this House will proceed with the utmost severity against such person."

An order was also made, "That the attorney-general do forthwith prosecute Richard Smith, Esq. Thomas Brand Hollis, Esq. James Calthorpe, Esq. and Richard Beckford, Esq. for the said offence."

The two persons against whom the proclamation was issued, having surrendered themselves, they were committed to Newgate.

Case of the Borough of HELLESTON in the county of Cornwall.—

Helleston is a borough by prescription, and also by a charter of the 27th of Queen Elizabeth, confirmed by another of the 16th of Charles I. By those charters the corporation was to consist of a mayor, four aldermen, and an indefinite number of freemen. The freemen were to be selected out of the inhabitants, by the mayor, aldermen and commonalty, or the major part of them: the aldermen, by the mayor and aldermen out of the freemen; the mayor, by the freemen out of two aldermen, to be nominated by the mayor and aldermen. The right of election of burgesses has constantly been in the mayor and commonalty, which has always been understood to mean the mayor, aldermen and freemen only. There is no determination upon the right of election, but it has always been admitted to be as just stated. In the year 1769, two informations, in the nature of quo warranto, were exhibited in the Court of King's-Bench, against several persons of the borough, to shew by what authority they claimed to be freemen, having been elected without the concurrence of the commonalty. Soon after the charter of Queen Elizabeth, a bye-law had been made by the corporation, by which the right of electing freemen was restrained to the mayor and aldermen. After various trials, the Court of King's Bench, and the House of Lords, delivered their opinion, "That the election of freemen could not be exercised by the mayor and aldermen exclusive of the commonalty." By these and other prosecutions of the same sort, judgment of ouster was obtained against all the members of the corporation, except two aldermen and eight freemen. In 177

a petition was presented to the king in council, from several merchants, tradesmen, freeholders, and inhabitants of Helleston, in which two of the ten remaining corporators joined, stating the facts just mentioned, and alledging that the corporation was totally dissolved; praying therefore such relief as should be thought fit. After various hearings, a new charter was granted to the borough on the 3d of Sept. 1774, similar to the former, with only the alteration, "That the freemen, who, notwithstanding the charter by the usage, had by the usage, been excluded from a share in the election of new freemen, should be expressly excluded by the new charter,—and that by the new charter a mayor, four aldermen, and thirty-one freemen, including the mayor and aldermen, were appointed nominatim by this charter. Richard Johns was made an alderman, and the other seven remaining corporators (one of them having died in the interim) of the old body, were appointed among the new freemen. The charter was, on the 8th of September, delivered to the new mayor, who accepted it, and on the 9th issued notices, severally, to all the new corporators, requiring them to meet on the 12th, in order to accept the charter and the offices to which they were thereby named. All but six of the old corporators accepted the charter and their offices, and took the oaths. Each of these six severally read a protest against the charter, and refused to accept or act under it. On Sunday the 25th of September, the new corporation met for the choice of a mayor, and John Rogers, Esq. was elected. The six protesting freemen did not attend at this election.

The precept for the election of members of parliament was sent by the sheriff to Mr. Rogers, who gave notice that the election would be on the 11th of October. On the day of election, the precept being read by Mr. Rogers, all the new members of the corporation, but the six protestors, voted for the two sitting members. The six, after protesting against the legality of Rogers acting as presiding officer, gave their votes at his poll for Mr. Yorke, and Mr. Cust. They afterwards proceeded by themselves to make an election of those two gentlemen. Richard Johns there acted as presiding officer, and made a return, which was delivered to the sheriff. Rogers also made a return of the sitting members, which he annexed to the precept, and delivered to the sheriff. Johns' return was first received, but the sheriff having taken the advice of council, annexed the return of Rogers to the writ, and sent it by his agent to the clerk of the crown. He also sent the other return by his agent, but not annexed to the writ. The clerk of the crown said, he could not receive the last, as it was not to the writ. It was accordingly rejected, and sent back to Cornwall; but was produced by the under sheriff on the trial before the committee.

Under all the circumstances of this case, the counsel for the petitioners contended, 1. That the new charter was void, and that the only persons who had a right to elect members of parliament for Helleston, were the subsisting freemen under the old charter. 2. That if the charter was valid, still the freemen appointed by it, not having been in possession of their franchise a year before the election, they were by the statute of the 3d of the present king, chap. 15. incapable of voting at the last election; and therefore the only competent electors, at that time, were the subsisting members of the old corporation. They argued, that if the old body existed as a corporation when the charter passed, and when it was tendered, acceptance by the majority of the old corporators was necessary to make it valid, and as they, after opposing it in all its stages, rejected it when offered for acceptance, it became by such refusal void to all intents and purposes. Acceptance is necessary to give validity to a new charter. This is an established and uncontrollable principle of law. There were only three ways by which a corporation can cease to exist.

One forfeiture by abuses or non-uses. 2d. Voluntary surrender. 3d. The death of all the natural persons members of the corporate body.

Forfeiture cannot dissolve a corporation, but by judgment of ouster against the whole. Surrender can only be by acceptance on record. But there was no pretence of surrender to this case. And there was no question, but that eight of the natural persons, members of the aggregate body, were still alive. They adduced the cases of Bewdley, Plympton, Durham, and Colchester, to prove, that though some of the integral parts of the corporation were gone, yet still, as there remained several members of it, they could exercise several franchises as corporators—they could enjoy any right of common belonging to the corporation—they could accept or refuse a charter, and they could vote for members of parliament. If they could do these acts, no new charter could transfer their right from them to another corporation. But if this doctrine were not so clear, still the new corporation could not vote at the last election, having been made freemen within the year, agreeable to the statute of George III.

The counsel for the sitting members said, that when the new charter passed, the old corporation was totally dissolved. The six who refused the charter could not be considered as acting in a corporate capacity, but merely as individuals, and therefore their refusal did not affect the validity of the charter, and the votes of the members of the new corporation were not affected by the statute of 3 George, 1777. Every corporation aggregate consists of certain integral parts, chalked out by the hand which formed it. If it ceases to have the form given it, if any of its vital parts are lost, it no longer exists in that state in which it was endowed with its powers; it is no longer that thing on which those powers were confined, and therefore it ceases to exist. They quoted many cases to prove, that the dissolution of an integral part produced the dissolution of the corporation, and several law authorities in support of the doctrine. And that the statute of George the Third did not affect the votes of the new members, was clear from the words of that statute. The disqualification created by it, regards persons admitted to the freedom within the year. A man cannot be said to be admitted into what does not exist. Till those men were made freemen by the new charter, the corporation had no existence.

The committee determined, that Philip Yorke, Esq. and Francis Cust, Esq. the petitioners, were duly elected, and ought to have been returned. An order was accordingly made by the House for taking off the indenture of return annexed to the writ for the county of Cornwall, and annexing thereto the indenture of return expected by Richard Johns and others.

Case of the Borough of IVELCHESTER.—Petitioners, Richard Brown, Esq. and Inigo William Jones, Esq. James Curry and John Cox, on behalf of themselves and others, being inhabitants, leaseholders, parishioners, and voters within the Borough of IVELCHESTER.—Sitting members, Peregrine Cust, Esq. William Innes, Esq.

The allegation in this case was principally confined to a charge of bribery; and several witnesses were called to prove that the sitting members had, by their agents, notoriously bribed and corrupted the electors; evidence was not produced, however, to destroy the majority which the sitting members had over the petitioners; the bribery disqualified a part, but not all of the majority; so that the committee could not declare the petitioners to be duly elected. Their decision was, that none of the four candidates were duly elected, and that it was a void election.

Second case of the Borough of IVELCHESTER.—Petitioners, Richard Browne, Esq. and Inigo William Jones, Esq.—Sitting members, Nathaniel Webb, Esq. Owen Salisbury Brereton.

After the petition was presented, the parties compromised the matter; a committee being therefore formed, the parties were called in, and the counsel for the petitioners informing them that they had no evidence to impeach the seats of the sitting members, they were immediately declared to be duly elected.

Case of the Borough of ST. IVES.—Petitioners, Samuel Stephens, Esq. several inhabitants, electors of ST. IVES, William Praed, Esq. Adam Drummond, Esq.

The petitions set forth, that the sitting members were guilty of bribery; and that the returning officer had acted partially by admitting persons to vote, who had no vote, and rejecting others who had a right. The last determination of the right of election was on the 8th of December, 1702.—The petitioners proved that Mr. Praed, the father of the sitting member, had advanced sums of money to the voters for which he took their votes; that when the voters received the money, there was a condition annexed that they should vote for his son and a friend; and that they were given to understand, if they complied with this condition, the money would never be demanded of them. Mr. Praed and Mr. Drummond canvassed together: they likewise proposed to add about forty to the poll in favour of Mr. Stephens, by proving, that though they had not been rated, and had not paid, they possessed rateable property, and ought to have been rated, and were therefore entitled to vote; but this the committee over-ruled, and resolved, "that persons, though possessed of rateable property, if they have not been rated, and cannot prove misconduct in the overseers in not rating them, are not entitled to vote." Mr. Praed was excluded on account of the bribery, and the committee determined that Mr. Drummond was duly elected, and that the election with respect to one of the burgesses was void; and accordingly a new writ was ordered.

Case of the Borough of MILBURN PORT.—Petitioners were, Edward Walter, Esq. and Isaac Hawkins Browne, Esq. the Hon. Temple Luttrell and Charles Wolfely, Esq. certain inhabitants of the town and borough of MILBURN PORT.—(in the interest of Luttrell and Wolfely.

There were three returns made by different persons claiming to be returning officers, all of which had been annexed to the writ by the sheriff, and returned into the office of the clerk of the crown. Walter and Browne were returned by one, and Luttrell and Wolfely by the other two. The constitution of the borough of Milburn Port is this: it consists of nine bailiwicks, of which part were the property of Thomas Hutchins Medlycot, Esq. and part of Mr. Walter. The two principal or reigning bailiffs appoint two sub-bailiffs for the year, who are the returning officers. In the year 1773, it happened that Mr. Medlycot had the appointment of one of the sub-bailiffs, and Mr. Walter of the other; Mr. Medlycot named one Elias Oliver, and Mr. Walter nominated one Robert Baunton. In 1774, it was Mr. Medlycot's turn to nominate both the sub-bailiffs. It appeared that the court-leet for appointing sub-bailiffs, had always been holden, before and since the stile was altered, on the first Tuesday after Park Monday. On the 3d of October, 1774, the precept for the election was delivered to Robert Baunton, who gave his receipt for it, and having communicated with the other sub-bailiff, they concurred in appointing the day of election to be on the 10th.

On the 4th of October, (being the first Tuesday in October N. S.) Oliver, with Medlycot and others, entered the town-hall, and nominated the capital reigning bailiffs for the year ensuing; who again appointed John Newton, junior, and John Peckham, to be their sub-bailiffs. At the same court, Oliver was appointed a constable, and sworn into that office.

On the 10th, the election came on, and there were three polls taken: one by Baunton, who declared the majority of legal votes to be in favour of Walter and Browne; one by Oliver, and a third by Newton and Peckham. By each of the two last, Luttrell and Wolfely had the majority of votes.

The question therefore was, whether Newton and Peckham were the legal sub-bailiffs at the time of the election? If they were so, their return only was valid; if they were not, the question would be, whether the return of Baunton, or of Oliver, was the legal return, or whether they were both void.

The evidence and the arguments of the counsel served to shew, that the court-leet holden on the 4th of October, at which Newton and Peckham were appointed, was holden a fortnight before the usual time; it has been ever until that year kept agreeable to the old style, and not to the new; the first Tuesday of October, new style, was on the 4th, and the first Tuesday, old style, was on the 18th of the month, new style; the court-leet was consequently holden a fortnight sooner than it would have been, if there had been no change of the style, and consequently not according to the provision of the statute. The committee resolved, "that the return made by John Newton, junior, and John Peckham, of Mr. Luttrell and Mr. Wolfely, was an illegal return.

"And that the other two returns appeared to the committee to be complicated together, that they thought it their duty to go upon the merits of the election, without previously deciding between them."

The parties claimed respectively the majority of legal votes, by objecting to several of those on the poll of their opponents, and it was contended by Walter and Browne, that the last determination of the House on the right of election, was on the 8th December, 1702. On the other side it was contended, that there were only two commonalty stewards, the other seven being denominated the assistants or the banage; and proofs were adduced by both parties in support of their allegations.

There was also a mutual charge exhibited of having the votes of inhabitants fraudulently rated; it appeared that there had been great struggles between Mr. Medlycot and Mr. Walter, about the appointment of overseers of the poor. The committee therefore proposed that the following question should be argued by the counsel, viz.

"Whether persons rateable, and having paid to the rate, though that rate were made and collected by officers illegal, or doubtful, may vote as inhabitants paying scot and lot?" And after hearing the arguments on both sides, they decided the question by another resolution in the affirmative.

This point of law being decided, the discussion of each particular vote turned merely on the matter of fact; one person in particular was objected to as under a conviction of felony; but this was contended on the other part to be no ground of disfranchisement.

An attempt was also made to prove that Mr. Luttrell was ineligible, because he held the office, by deputation, of customs inwards in the port of Bristol. No substantial proof of this fact was adduced.

After several days consideration, the committee determined on the petitions, by which they declared the honourable Temple Luttrell, and Charles Wolfely, Esq. to be duly returned, and elected burgesses to serve in parliament for the said borough; and that Edward Walter, Esq. and Isaac Hawkins Browne, Esq. were not duly elected.

Case of the Borough of MORPETH.—Petitioners, Hon. William Byron, certain freemen and electors of the borough of Morpeth, against Francis Eyre, Esq. sitting member.

The petitions set forth, that at the elections, when Peter Delme, Esq. Francis Eyre, Esq. Thomas Charles Bigge, Esq. and the Hon.

William Byron, were candidates for the borough of Morpeth, Mr. Delmé and Mr. Byron had the majority of votes at the conclusion of the poll, in the judgment of the two bailiffs who presided, and who were the proper returning officers, but that they were afterwards compelled by the violence and threats of a violent and outrageous mob, to sign a return of Mr. Eyre instead of the petitioner.

After receiving the proof of this allegation, the committee decided, "That Francis Eyre, Esq. was not duly elected, and that the Hon. William Byron ought to have been returned a Burgess to serve in Parliament for the said borough.

An order was made at the same time, "That Francis Eyre, Esq. and the freemen and electors of the borough of Morpeth be at liberty to petition the House, to question, the election of the Hon. William Byron within fourteen days, if they thought fit."

A petition was accordingly presented by Mr. Eyre, charging Mr. Byron and Mr. Delmé directly with bribery by themselves and agents.

The petition contained a charge of bribery against the sitting member and alleged that legal votes tendered for the petitioner had been rejected, and the suffrages of persons not entitled to vote received for the sitting member. The last determination of the House was on the 13th of May, 1728. The point of bribery was abandoned.

The counsel for Mr. Phipps produced evidence to shew, that a most partial rate had been made in the year 1774, for the purpose of garbling the election, and then they contended, that five persons should be struck from the poll, being fraudulently rated for property of which they were not the occupiers. 2. That two should be struck off, because they were not bona fide householders within the precincts of the minister—and thirdly, they contended, that certain persons, who had voted as inhabitants of the city, without the precincts of the minister, were not householders, and consequently not entitled to vote by the last determination. On this point the counsel for the sitting member objected to the hearing of evidence. The counsel for the petitioner contended, that the description of an inhabitant paying scot and lot necessarily implies that the person so described should be a householder. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the committee resolved, that the word "householder," in the resolution of the House of Commons, of the 13th of May, 1728, relates to the inhabitants within the precincts of the minister only, and not to other the inhabitants within the said city, paying scot and lot." The counsel for the petitioner then proceeded to shew that there had been great misconduct and partiality observed in not rating a Thomas Felton. He had been rated immediately before, and was left out of the rate of September, 1774. After hearing arguments, the committee decided, "that the parties should not go into evidence to prove that Thomas Felton ought to have been admitted upon the rate in September, 1774." But at the same time they resolved, "that the the counsel for the petitioner be permitted to proceed to offer any evidence they think proper to prove any misconduct relative to that rate." But afterwards, when they heard the species of evidence, that was to be adduced to prove the misconduct, they resolved, "that the committee were of opinion, that the evidence which the counsel for the petitioner proposed to offer, is inconsistent with the resolution which the committee have already come to." On this, the counsel for the petitioner. said, he would give the committee no farther trouble, and the sitting member was declared to be duly elected.

Case of the Borough of PONTEFRACT.—Petitioners, the Hon. Charles James Fox, and James Hare, Esq. several inhabitants, householders, and electors of the borough of Pontefract.—Sitting members, Sir John Goodricke, Bart. and Charles Mellish, Esq.

The only question in the case was, concerning the right of election in the borough. Whether a resolution of 1624, or one of 1770, was to be considered as the last determination of the House of Commons, within the meaning of the statute of George the Second? If the first was that determination, Mr. Fox and Mr. Hare had an unquestionable majority, and were duly elected; and vice versa.

There are two journals of the year 1624. In the first, intitled, "Originals of the Session of Parliament, holden at Westminster, 19<sup>o</sup> Februarii, 21<sup>o</sup> Jacobi, there is the following entry: 28th May, 1624. Mr. Glanville reporteth for Pomfret, two points. 1. Who, the electors? Resolved by the committee, there being no charter, nor prescription for choice, the election is to be made by the inhabitants, householders, resiants. Resolved also, so now, when the question. 2. That the committee also of opinion, in respect the poll demanded, though interrupted by Beamart, yet the poll not being persued, the choice of Sir Jo. Jackson, void, and a new warrant to issue for a new choice."

In the other, intitled "Prima sessio parliamenti inchoat. apud Westm. decimonono die Februarii, anno regni regis Jacobi, Angliæ, &c. vicesimo primo, et Scotiæ, quinquagesimo septimo," there is the following account of the same report: 28th May, 1624, Mr. Glanvill reports from the committee of privileges:

Concerning Pomfret. Question of Sir John Jackson. Committee resolved, all the inhabitants, householders, ought to have voice. 2. Committee resolved, upon the latter writ, no burgesses chosen, but a new writ to go. "Resolved, that the election ought to be in Pomfret, by the inhabitants, householders, resiants there."

The resolution of 1770, is as follows: 6th February, 1770, Resolved, "that the right of election for members to serve in parliament for the borough of Pontefract, in the county of York, is in persons having within the said borough a freehold of burgage tenure, paying a burgage rent."

The counsel for the petitioners argued, that if the resolution of 1624 was the last determination of the House, in 1729, when the statute of George

George the Second passed, no subsequent act of the House can annul it ; for that statute is binding on the House, and every last determination is to be considered as incorporated with, and making part of it. And they shewed, by various quotations from the Journals, that between 1624 and 1729, there was no resolution nor determination of the House on the right. The counsel for the sitting members argued, that the resolution of 1770 was conclusive. For though the last determination is binding on the House, yet, where a doubt arises, whether it is the last determination, the House is the only court competent to try that question. In 1770, the House did decide that what appears on the Journals of 1624, is not a last determination within the meaning of the act of George the Second, for they refused to let it be read as such, upon a division of 161 to 32. And they shewed by various references and descriptions, that the rule appointed by the resolution of 1770 had principally obtained in all the elections since 1624.

The committee therefore confirmed the due election of the two sitting members.

Case of the Borough and County of the town of POOLE.—Petitioners, Hon. Charles James Fox and John Williams, Esq. several inhabitants and householders (and also paying scot and bearing lot) within the borough and county of the town of Poole.—Sitting members, Sir Eyre Coote, K. B. Joshua Manger, Esq.

The only question in the case was, "Whether the right of election is in the burgesses of the borough exclusively, or, in the inhabitants and householders within the borough, paying scot and bearing lot?" The sheriff had rejected those who tendered their votes as inhabitants, householders, and only admitted the votes of burgesses. It was admitted that the sitting members had a majority of the latter ; that if the former had a right to vote, there was a great majority in favour of the petitioners.

When the chairman desired the clerk, as usual, to read the last determination of the House on the right of election, the counsel for the petitioners denied that there was any resolution in the Journals touching the right of election in this borough, which can be considered as a determination within the meaning of the statute. The counsel for the sitting members said, that such a determination was to be found on the Journals of the 9th of February, 1688-9. This entry was, that "on a petition of Thomas Chaffer, Esq. complaining that Sir Nathaniel Napper had been returned in prejudice to him, the committee reported to the House, that the matter in question was, whether the right of election be in the mayor and burgesses only, or in the mayor, burgesses, and commonalty, who pay scot and lot? That it appeared to the committee by many parliament returns, which were produced to the committee, that the right of election had anciently been in the mayor and burgesses only, except a return in the 18th year of King James the First, wherein the commonalty are mentioned, with the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses, in the indenture ; but that indenture is sealed with the common seal of the mayor, aldermen, and burgesſes. That Sir Nathaniel Napper had 33 burgesſes, and Mr. Chaffer but 22; but of the commonalty, that Mr. Chaffer was allowed to have had the greater number; and that thereupon the committee had agreed on two reſolves. 1. That it is the opinion of this committee, that the right of election of burgesſes to ſerve in this preſent convention for the town and county of Poole, is in the mayor, burgesſes, and commonalty of the ſaid town and county, who pay ſcot and lot. And 2. That Thomas Chaffer, Eſq. is duly elected." A debate aroſe in the Houſe on theſe reſolutions, and they diſagreed with the committee. It was urged on one, that this could not be a determination within the meaning of the ſtatute; and after hearing the arguments on both ſides, the committee ordered the counſel to proceed, and give evidence of the right of election. The counſel for the petitioners endeavoured to prove, that the right extended to the inhabitants, from general principles of law, and from the hiſtory, conſtitution and ancient uſage of the borough. The counſel for the ſitting members brought evidence alſo to prove, that it had been almoſt the invariable uſage of the borough to confine the right of election to the burgesſes.

The committee agreed to this, and declared the ſitting members to be duly elected.

Caſe of the Borough of PETERSFIELD.—Petitioner, the Hon. John Luttrell.—Sitting members, Sir Abraham Hume, bart. William Joliſſe, Eſq.

The petition ſet forth, that Sir Abraham Hume, Bart. high ſheriff for the county of Hertford, and Mr. Joliſſe, by themſelves and their agents, were guilty of notorious bribery and corruption; that the returning officer acted partially and unfairly in rejecting good and legal votes for the petitioner, and admitting bad ones for the ſitting members. The laſt determination was on the 9th of May, 1727.

The counſel for the petitioner argued on the firſt point, that Sir Abraham Hume, being high ſheriff of the county of Hertford at the time of the election, was ineligible, and that notice thereof having been given to the returning officer, and the electors, the votes were thrown away; the counſel for the ſitting members argued, that the committee could not go into this point, becauſe there was no expreſs allegation or complaint on that ſubject, in the petition; they ſaid that the words "high ſheriff of the county of Hertford," appeared in the petition merely as an addition or descriptio perſonæ. The committee reſolved, that the counſel be "not permitted to argue the point of ineligibility of Sir Abraham Hume, as high ſheriff of the county of Hertford, the ſame ineligibility not being an allegation in the petition." They then proceeded to call witneſſes to prove the charge of bribery, but being prevented from asking queſtions that tended to prove the declarations of voters not on oath, the petitioners dropt the cauſe, and the ſitting members were declared duly elected.

Caſe

Case of the Town and Port of SEAFORD.—Petitioners, Stephen Sayre, Esq. and John Cbetwood, Esq.—Sitting members, William Hall, Lord Viscount Gage; George Medley, Esq.

The petition set forth that many persons duly qualified, tendered their votes for the petitioners, but were rejected; by which means there was procured a majority for the sitting members. The last determination was 10th February, 1670-1, "that the committee were of opinion, that the bailiff, jurors, and freemen, had not only voices in election, but that the election was in the populacy. There is also an explanatory resolution on the 15th December, 1761; resolved, "that the word 'populacy' (mentioned in the above determination) extended only to the inhabitants, housekeepers of the said town and port, paying scot and lot."

The counsel for the petitioners argued, that the explanatory resolution of 1761, was inconsistent with the true sense of the determination of 1670, which was the last determination of the House, when the statute of 2 Geo. II. cap. 24. took place, and therefore final to all intents and purposes. The counsel for the sitting members objected to this being evidence to contradict the explanatory resolution; and after hearing arguments on both sides, the committee by a special resolution prevented them from producing evidence to call in question the said explanatory resolution. The counsel for the petitioners then proceeded to shew, that it is not necessary that persons, in order to answer the description of scot and lot men, should actually be rated to, and pay the poor tax; 47 persons, who tendered their votes at the poll for the petitioners were rejected, because their names did not appear on the last poor rate; these would have given the petitioners a majority. A great deal of evidence was brought to prove that these people were rateable, and that they had been kept off the books, merely for the purpose of the election. On the other hand it was argued, that if there was any irregularity or injustice in the rating of the inhabitants, they ought to have had recourse to the legal means of redress.

The committee determined that the two sitting members were duly elected.

Case of the Town and County of the Town of SOUTHAMPTON.—Petitioners, certain inhabitants of the town of Southampton, in the interest of Lord Charles Montague.—Sitting member John Fleming, Esq.

The petition stated, that though the town of Southampton is governed by a mayor, and other officers, and has a sheriff of its own, and the sheriff of Hampshire has no officer to execute within the said town, yet persons having freeholds within the said town, vote in right of such freeholds, for knights of the shire, or county at large; and several other circumstances serve to shew, that the said town is still a part of the county at large; that Mr. Fleming was high sheriff of Hampshire when he was returned as a burgess for Southampton; and therefore they prayed that the committee would permit Lord Charles Montague to take his seat instead of Mr. Fleming.

The last determination of the House on the right of election in Southampton, was on the 17th of March, 1695-6. The sole question in this case, was the circumstance of Mr. Fleming's being high sheriff. The counsel therefore argued from the words in the writ; from the precedents on the journals, and the history of parliament; and after hearing the arguments on both sides, the committee resolved, "That it is the opinion of this committee, that John Fleming, Esq. being sheriff for Hampshire at the time of the last general election, was eligible to serve in parliament for the town of Southampton."—After this question was determined, the counsel for the petitioners said, they would prove that the sheriff of the town in making out his precept to the returning officer, had omitted the "Nolumus."

The committee would not permit them to go into this point, as it was not alledged in the petition. The sitting member was therefore confirmed in his seat.

Case of the Town of SHREWSBURY.----Petitioners, William Pulteney, Esq. certain burgesses and others, electors of the town of Shrewsbury. Sitting member, Charleton Leighton, Esq.

The petitioners set forth, that at the last election Robert Lord Clive, in the kingdom of Ireland, Charleton Leighton, Esq. and the petitioner, were candidates; and that the mayor by admitting votes for the two former, which ought to have been rejected, and rejecting others for the petitioner which ought to have been admitted, had stated a majority on the poll in favour of Lord Clive and Mr. Leighton, and had returned them, although the petitioner would have had a great majority of legal votes, if justice had been done him. After the petition was presented, Lord Clive's death happened, but a new writ could not issue while the petition was depending. Mr. Pulteney's petition was withdrawn, and a new writ was issued. The only petition therefore which remained was that of the burgesses and electors, who only complained of Mr. Leighton's election.

The last determination of the House on the right of election in Shrewsbury, was on the 9th of April, 1723.

If a class of men who had tendered their suffrages, and had been rejected by the returning officer, were intitled by law to vote, it was admitted that Mr. Pulteney had a majority, and was duly elected.

The counsel for the petitioners contended, that the persons whose votes had been rejected, were intitled to their freedom under two immemorial customs. 1. That all persons of the age of one and twenty, and who have served a seven years apprenticeship to one of the trades which form fourteen ancient companies by prescription or incorporation, have a right to demand and be admitted to their freedom, on paying five pounds and the usual fees.

2. That all persons born within the borough, are, at the age of one and twenty, intitled in like manner to demand and be admitted to their freedom on the same terms. The fact, that the rejected voters came under these descriptions, was admitted; and it was proved, that they had demanded this freedom a year before the election; and that they

they had tendered their votes at the election; but the two customs were called in question. By a decision of the Court of King's Bench, one Baxter had sued out a peremptory mandamus, and was admitted to his freedom; but the corporation after that decision, still refused to admit the persons who claimed under the customs.

The committee decided, that William Pulteney, Esq. was duly elected and ought to have been returned.

Case of the Borough of SUDBURY---Petitioners, Sir Walden Hanmer, Bart. on behalf of himself and Sir Patrick Blake, Bart. (absent in the island of St. Christopher's certain electors for the borough of Sudbury. —Sitting members, Thomas Fonnereau, Esq. Philip Champion Crespigny.

The petition set forth, that a great many legal voters who tendered their voices for Hanmer and Blake had been rejected, although they had been for many years in the possession and exercise of their rights, to the knowledge of the mayor, and of Fonnereau, one of the sitting members, in whose favour, and at whose request, many of them had frequently polled at former elections; that many whose claim stood in the same predicament had been admitted to vote for the sitting members; that others who were not legally qualified had also been admitted to vote for them; that the fair majority of legal votes was in favour of the petitioners; but that William Strutt, the mayor and returning officer, had acted partially and corruptly before, and during the poll, and had declared the sitting members duly elected, and had returned them; and that money was given by the sitting members or their agents, by way of bribe or reward to persons who voted for them at the election.

The last determination of the House on the right of election was 6th December, 1703. At the opening of the cause, the counsel for the petitioners contended that the resolution of the 6th of December 1703, was merely explanatory of one of the 19th of January, 1702-3, in the following words, resolved, "that the sons of freemen, born after their fathers were made free, and those that have served apprenticeships in the borough of Sudbury, have a right to vote in the election of members to serve in parliament for the said borough, without any admission in form to their freedom, or taking the oath of freemen." A great number of persons who tendered their suffrages for Hanmer and Blake at the election were rejected, because they did not produce evidence of their admission to their freedom, enrolled upon stamps, in the books of the corporation. The committee directed the counsel for the petitioners to produce evidence to shew by what right they rejected persons claimed to vote; they then proceeded to shew, 1. That honorary freemen, of whom a great number had polled for the sitting members, had no right to vote. 2. That the persons who had been rejected, because they did not produce the enrolment of their admission upon stamps, had a right to vote. And 3. That the mayor's conduct had been such as merited the censure of the Committee and the House. On the first point.

point they stated, that till the year 1772, there had hardly been an instance of persons admitted to their freedom without a title acquired either by birth, servitude, or redemption, but in 1772, the governing part of the corporation being in the interest of Mr. Fonnereau, made entry in their books, importing that they had power to admit men claiming by any of the above titles, and also gratuitously or by favour, without any previous title or consideration in money. And the day after they admitted 170, of whom 130 had no right either by birth, servitude, or redemption. On the second point, they said it had been the constant usage to permit persons having a title by birth to exercise all the rights of freemen without any emolument upon stamps, and even without any entry of their admission in the books of the corporation. At the election 388 had been rejected, and it appeared that of this number 26 voted in 1734: 83 in 1747: 137 in May 1754: 187 in 1761, and 231 in 1768. The corporation had rejected them contrary to the usage. On the third point, it was said, that the lord-mayor, just before the election, had a thousand copies printed of an extract from the Durham act 3 George III. cap. 15, containing the clause disqualifying freemen admitted to their freedom within the year, and mentioning the penalty of 100*l.* inflicted by the statute, if they shall presume to vote, but remitting the exception in favour of persons who have had an inchoate title. He had himself caused these papers to be distributed among the persons claiming to be enrolled. By this means an alarm was spread, and proof was adduced, that many legal voters were deterred from giving their votes for the petitioners on this account.

The counsel on both sides argued upon these points, and it was clearly by an admission of these facts, that the committee at last decided that Sir William Hammer, bart. and Sir Patrick Blake, bart. were duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

In order to do this it was only necessary, from the statement of the case, and the evidence produced, to come to an opinion, “ that persons who derived their claim to their freedom, from the antecedent title of birth, who had exercised all the rights of freemen, and that of voting for members of Parliament among the rest, for twenty years and upwards before the last election, who had demanded to be enrolled (and offered to prove that at their birth their fathers enjoyed and exercised the right and franchises of freemen) but were refused, had a right to vote, though they could not produce evidence of their admission upon stamps.

The committee severely reprimanded the mayor for his conduct.

Case of the Borough of TAUNTON.—Petitioners, Alexander Popham, Esq. and John Halliday, Esq. several inhabitants and electors of the Borough of Taunton.—Sitting Members, the Hon. Edward Stratford, Nathaniel Webb, Esq.

The petitions set forth, that the mayor as returning officer, had by unnecessary adjournments protracted the poll from the 10th of October to the 18th, and that he had rejected many legal votes tendered for the petitioners, and admitted many illegal votes for the sitting members. That the petitioners were duly elected by a great majority of legal votes, and ought to have been returned. That the sitting members previous to, and during the election were guilty of bribery and corruption, by themselves and agents.

The last determination of the House on the right of election, in Taunton, was on the 28th of July, 1715. In Taunton there is a clear distinction between alms and charity. Alms means parochial collection, or parish relief. Charity signifies sums arising from the revenue of certain specific funds which have been established, or bequeathed for the purpose of assisting the poor. Neither alms nor charity disqualify an elector in Taunton, unless they have been received within a year before the election. It was agreed that a potwaller is a person who furnishes his own diet, whether he be a householder, or only a lodger; and it was agreed, that to be a potwaller, he must have a residence, and legal parochial settlement in the borough. The counsel for the petitioners said that the Journals of the House have recognized that apprentices cannot be potwallers qualified to vote. The numbers on the poll, as produced by the returning officer, were as follows :

For Webb,	-	-	-	260
Stratford,	-	-	-	254
Halliday,	-	-	-	202
Popham,	-	-	-	201

The counsel for the petitioners proposed to disqualify

- 114 as having received the town charity,
- 2 as having received the churchwarden's charity,
- 3 as Chelsea pensioners,
- 19 as not having settlements in Taunton,
- 2 or 3 as certificate men,
- 2 as apprentices,
- 2 as bribery agents,

And at the same time they said they would prove the charge of bribery. In the course of the cause it was settled that Chelsea pensioners might vote. It was agreed on both sides, that by the lex loci certificate men cannot vote for the Borough. The counsel for the sitting members proposed to disqualify thirty-one of the petitioners' votes on some clear grounds, and to recriminate the charge of bribery. After a very long investigation, the committee determined that John Halliday, Esq. and Alexander Popham, Esq. were duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

The Case of the City and Liberty of WESTMINSTER.—Petitioners, Henry Morres, Lord Viscount Mountmorres in the Kingdom of Ireland, and and several other Inhabitants, Electors of the City and Liberty of Westminster.

The petition sets forth, that at the late Election the petitioners, Lord Mountmorres, Charles Stanhope, commonly called Lord Viscount Mahon, Hugh Percy, commonly called Earl Percy, Thomas Pelham Clinton, commonly called Lord Thomas Pelham Clinton, and Humphrey Cotes, Esq. being Candidates, the King's menial servants, not having proper houses of their own within the city of Westminster, gave voices in the said election, contrary to an express resolution of the House. "15th November, 1680, Resolved, that the King's menial servants not having proper houses of their own within the city of Westminster, have not right to give voices in the election of citizens to serve in Parliament for the said city." It also stated that divers Peers and Lords of Parliament publickly canvassed and otherwise unduly interfered in the election, contrary in several express resolutions of the House; that during the election, after the teste and issuing out of the writ. Lord Percy and Lord Thomas Pelham Clinton by themselves or agents, were guilty of bribing, corrupting, and entertaining the voters.

There is no general determination of the House, of the right of election in Westminster; but it seems to be agreed to be "in the inhabitants, householders, paying scot and lot."

The numbers on the poll stood thus :

For Earl Percy,	- - -	4994
Lord Thomas Pelham Clinton,		4744
Lord Mountmorres,	- -	2531
Lord Mahon,	- -	2342
Humphrey Cotes, Esq.	- -	130

It was proved, that about nineteen persons under the description of the resolution of 1680, had polled for the sitting members. They were inhabitants of the Mews, and their Houses had of late, for the first time, been rated to the parish, on which account they claimed to be electors; but they acknowledged that their rates were paid by the King. They had all been solicited for their votes by Lord Mountmorres and Lord Mahon. There was no positive proof of any direct solicitation of any Peers, though there was strong presumptive proof; nor was there any evidence of bribery that came home to the sitting members.

The committee therefore declared Earl Percy and Lord Thomas Pelham Clinton to be duly elected.

Case for the City of WORCESTER.—Petitioner, Sir Watkin Lewes, Knight.—Sitting Members, John Walsh, Esq. Thomas Bates Rous, Esq.

The objects of the petitioner were, 1. To prove that bribery had been committed by the sitting members or their agents, and thereby to make the election void, as to them. 2. To disqualify such a number of voters for the sitting members, and to add such a number to the poll for the petitioner, as to leave a majority in his favour, and entitle him to be declared duly elected. 3. To induce the committee to make a special report to the House of the various matters particularly alledged in the petition against the sitting members, the corporation, the returning officer, a Peer whose influence and interference was complained of, and the corrupted voters. On the first head witnesses were called, who swore to positive acts of bribery, and promises by Mr. Walsh himself and by his agents. In answer to this, evidence was called on the other side, who positively contradicted the facts alledged; and in some instances the persons who were said to have given, or to have received bribes persisted in denying the acts of bribery when confronted with the witnesses on the other side. On the second point the counsel for the petitioner stated that a great number, constituting the majority of the voters, had been procured by promises and by money; and in particular upwards of 300 constables were sworn in, and received money from the chamberlain the day before the election, who all voted for the sitting members, and many witnesses proved that offers were made to others to make them constables, if they would vote for the sitting members. To this it was answered, that the petitioner had given rise to apprehensions by his conduct, that the election would be riotous, and therefore the corporation had wisely increased the number of constables: 19 voters were given up by the sitting members, because their names were not to be found in the corporation books. On the third point there was nothing material insisted upon.—The counsel for the sitting members objected to going into evidence on the improper interference of the Peer, as the committee of privileges appointed annually, was the proper place for such a complaint.

The committee determined, that the two sitting members were duly elected.

Case of the Borough of CARDIGAN, and its contributory Boroughs.—
Petitioners, Thomas Johnes the younger, Esq. Several Burgesses of the Borough of Cardigan, Aberystwith, and Lampeter. Sitting Member Sir Robert Smyth, Bart.

The petition stated, that Thomas Colby, Esq. the returning officer, permitted a great number of persons to poll for Sir Robert Smyth, who had no legal right to vote, and rejected the votes of divers others duly qualified, who offered to poll for Mr. Johnes, and was guilty of many other notorious acts of partiality and injustice. The last determination of the right of elections was on the 7th of May 1730. Burgesses are admitted into these Boroughs without any particular qualification, and as all Burgesses, whether resident or not, have a right to vote, it has been usual, previous to an election, to admit great numbers. Above 4000 were admitted at Cardigan alone, between the beginning of the year 1774 and the last election. Their votes, however, were not good, on account of their occasionality. It had been usual, before 1765, to give to each burgess a docket of his admission, written on a slip of stamped parchment, and signed by the Mayor and Town Clerk. Since 1765, in consequence of the change then introduced in the law on this subject, subject, a stamped book had been kept, in which the town clerk orders the names of the new burgesses.

At the election the mayor laid down a rule, " that he would admit every person to poll who would say he was a burgess of one of the four boroughs, and had polled at a former election." Mr. Johnes' managers objected to this, and insisted that none should be admitted to vote who did not produce entries of their admission on stamps, if admitted since 1765, or stamped dockets if made free prior to that time. Notwithstanding this, however, all voters who came for Sir Robert Smyth, were admitted to vote without any investigation of their titles, but the admissions of all those who voted for Johnes were produced and enquired into. About 249 of Sir Robert's voters declared at the poll that they had no admissions to produce, and about 134 said they never had any admission. In the course of the proceeding before the committee, it was agreed that the agents of both parties should examine the poll for Sir Robert Smyth, with the books of the corporation. In consequence of their joint examination, it was agreed that of the votes for the sitting members,

1. A certain number was not to be found at all in the books.
2. That the names of a certain number were in the books, but that the descriptions added to those names in the books, and on the poll were not the same.
3. That a certain number were only found in a list, written in a book called the council-book.
4. That the admissions of a certain number were entered on stamps during the poll.
5. That the admissions of others were entered on stamps after the poll.
6. And of others within a year before the election.
7. That the entries respecting a certain number in the corporation books, and on the poll, agreed both in the names and description.

The first class were given up by the counsel for the sitting member. On the second point the committee determined, " that the counsel for the petitioners should make their objections to each individual vote; and that when the description in the books should appear to differ from the description on the poll, it was incumbent on the counsel for the sitting member to remove the objections so as to reconcile the difference. On the third question, a deal of evidence was produced, to prove that the list was vague and unauthentic. That it was made in 1741, before an election, for the purpose of serving the interest of a Mr. Lloyd, and that the names contained in it had not been shewn to be taken from presentments enrolled in the leet books. The committee determined, " That the the leet of 1741, as entered in the council book, was not admissible as evidence!" On the fourth question, the committee resolved, " that the voters whose admissions were stamped during the poll, prior to their voting, are to be admitted as legal voters at this election. The parties were to understand, that this resolution goes merely to the legality of stamping the admissions during the poll, before the voters had polled, and not to any other right whatsoever." On the fifth point, the committee resolved, " That persons whose admissions were stamped after their votes were given, were not to be allowed as legal voters at the last election." On the sixth question the committee resolved, " That it is not necessary by the statute of 3 George III. for freemen, whose right, in every other respect is complete a year before an election, to have their admissions entered on stamps twelve Kalendar months before, in order to qualify them to vote at such election." On the seventh question, the counsel for the petitioners contended, " That as there were so many persons of the same name in Wales, and as Mr. Johnes' agents were not suffered to enquire into the identity of these voters during the poll, it was now the business of the counsel for the sitting member, to prove their identity. The committee, however, determined, that the onus of disproving the identity of the persons lay upon the counsel for the petitioners." In consequence of these resolutions of the committee, lists were prepared by the agents on each side, of the number of voters which were thereby disqualified, and the counsel for Sir Robert Smyth admitted, that as the poll then stood, there was a majority of fifty-eight in favour of Mr. Johnes.

Upon this, Mr. Smyth's counsel endeavoured, by evidence, to shew, that there was the greatest reason to believe, that many who had voted for Johnes, were not the persons who had really been admitted, but that they were men who had falsely personated those who were entitled to vote. On this, the committee resolved, " That as the identity of Mr. Johnes's voters had been scrutinized at the poll, it was not incumbent on his counsel to identify them before the committee.

The committee then determined, that Thomas Johnes, the younger, Esq. was duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

The case of the Borough of NEW RADNOR, and its contributory Boroughs in the County of RADNOR. Petitioners, Edward Lewis, Esq. several Burgesses of the Borough of NEW RADNOR, and its contributory Boroughs. Sitting member, John Lewis, Esq.

Both the petitions contained a general allegation that Edward Lewis Esq. the petitioner, had a great majority of legal votes and was duly elected.

The last determination of the House on the right of election was on the 12th of November, 1690. The counsel for the petitioner insisted, that by the word burgesses, " is meant all burgesses whether resident or non-resident; and that by the standing order of 1735, the counsel for the sitting member were not at liberty to go into any proof to the contrary." The counsel on the other side contended, that by the standing order the House could never intend to prohibit the explanation of ambiguous or equivocal words; they said they only meant to shew that the House must have understood in this instance not " Burgesses at large," but " Burgesses inhabitants." The committee were of opinion that they were

were not precluded by the standing order from receiving such explanation.—After having heard the arguments of the counsel, and read the various determination of the House on the Welch boroughs, the committee resolved, that the out-burgesies as well as inhabitants, were intitled by the determination of the House, to vote, and they therefore declared, that Edward Lewis, Esq. the petitioner, was duly elected, and ought to have been returned.

The petition set forth, that the sitting member was absolutely disqualified and ineligible; that the petitioner had a majority of legal votes; and that the return of the sitting member was brought about by various illegal and unwarrantable acts and proceedings. The counsel for the petitioner argued, that the sitting member ought to have given in a particular of his estate to the clerk of the House within 15 days after the petition was read, according to the standing order. It was either proved or admitted that Mr. Abercrombie had stood on the freeholders roll of Clackmannanshire ever since 1759; but the petitioner objected to him on account of an alteration of circumstances—four months had elapsed, and no complaint had been made to the court of session. The counsel for the sitting member contended, that now all the qualification necessary to be produced by him was his name on the roll; that the House, since the 16th of George the Second, had no jurisdiction with regard to the right of freeholders to stand on the roll, because the complaint is directed to be made to the court of session.

The committee were of opinion, that they were bound by the statute of George the Second; that the enrollment of the sitting member, under all the circumstances of the case, was a sufficient answer to the petitioner's demand of his qualification, and that no other evidence should be called on the head of his qualification. After this the petitioner informed them, that he would not give them any further trouble. They therefore determined the sitting member was duly elected.

The numbers for Mr. Oswald were 61, and for the petitioner 61. The counsel for the petitioner proposed to object to two of the votes for the sitting member, and his counsel again to one of the petitioner's. The votes objected to by the petitioner, were those of Hugh Dalrymple, and William Melvill, Esqrs. They contended, that the estate of Mr. Dalrymple was a redeemable right, not within the exception of the statute of 12 Anne, and therefore deprived of the right of voting. Mr. Melvill, they contended that he had no right to vote, as he was denuded of the title upon which he stood upon the poll, his wife, in whose right he stood, having disposed her estate to her son Captain Graham. After hearing the arguments on both sides, the committee informed the counsel that they were of opinion, that Hugh Dalrymple, Esq. of Fordeil, and William Melvill, of Griegsten, had a right to vote at the last election of member to serve in parliament for the county of Fife.

Upon which the sitting member was declared to be duly elected.

*Case of the County of LANERK ---Petitioner, Daniel Campbell, Esq.---

The petition set forth, that Mr. Stuart at the time of the election was ineligible, and that the petitioner had the majority of legal votes, and was duly elected. The counsel for the petitioner stated, that Mr. Stuart, at the time of the election, held the office of joint king's remembrancer, in the court of exchequer in Scotland; which they said was an office of profit under the crown, erected since the 25th of October, 1705. The counsel for Mr. Stuart denied that he held the office at the time of his election. On this a copy of the king's commissioner, under the union seal, bearing date the 25th of January, 1771, granting the place to Mr. Stuart and Mr. Warrander jointly, was read. The counsel for Mr. Stuart then called several gentlemen to prove that he had resigned the office previous to the election. He had given by the hands of the solicitor general his resignation to the secretary of the treasury, but nothing had been done in it.

The committee resolved, "That it is the opinion of the committee, that Andrew Stuart, Esq. by the instrument of resignation executed at Edinburgh, on the 18th of October, 1771, and delivered to Mr. Cooper on the 25th of the same month, was at the time of his election divested of the office of king's remembrancer in the court of exchequer, in Scotland." This resolution of course put an end to the cause, and the sitting member was declared duly elected.

Case of the District of NORTH BERWICK, HADDINGTON, LAUDER, JEDBURGH, and DUNBAR.---Petitioners Sir Alex. Gilmer, Bart. Andrew Dickson, Esq. constituted Members of the Town Council of the Borough of Haddington, at Michaelmas, 1774; the Magistrates and Town Council of North Berwick; the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Borough of Dunbar.---Sitting Member, the Hon. John Maitland.

The petitions set forth, that at the election of North Berwick, the presiding borough commissions were produced in favour of persons named as delegates for the several boroughs; and David Kinloch appeared, and claimed a vote, as having been the person duly elect a delegate for the borough of Haddington; though a commission had been made out in favour of Robert Burton, Esq. provost of Haddington, and accordingly he gave his vote at the election under protest. That the delegates producing commissions from the boroughs of Haddington, Lauder, and Jedburgh, voted for the Hon. John Maitland, clerk of the pipe in the court of exchequer in Scotland; and the delegates from North Berwick and Dunbar, voted for Sir Alexander Gilmour. That Mr. Maitland was ineligible, on account of his office, which had been created since the 25th of October, 1765.—That besides this, the two commissions for the boroughs of Haddington and Jedburgh, had been granted by persons who were by them incapable of electing a delegate, having no right themselves to the offices they assumed in the said borough, and that the said commissioners were procured by bribery.—From this state of the allegations it appeared, that the two general questions in the case were, 1. Whether Mr. Maitland was eligible? 2. Whether he or Sir Alexander Gilmour had the majority of legal votes? After hearing the arguments of counsel on both sides, the committee determined on the first point, “That the Hon. John Maitland was eligible to serve in Parliament, notwithstanding his being in possession of the office of clerk of the pipe, in the exchequer of Scotland, at the time of his election.”

On the second point the counsel for the petitioners argued, that the commissions from the boroughs of Haddington and Jedburgh, were illegal, because the magistrates of these boroughs had not been duly chosen. By the 9th section of the second of George II. cap. 24. it is enacted, “That the said statute shall be openly read at the annual election of magistrates and town-councillors, for every borough within that part of Great Britain called Scotland.” This provision was not complied with at the last annual election of magistrates for these boroughs, and consequently their future election of delegates. To this it was answered, that this statute was merely directory, and that it never was read unless upon the request of a member of the council. This point was therefore dropped; but another objection was started against the magistracy of Jedburgh, because in their last election they had departed from the sett, in not purging the council till some days after the election; but they were not able to prove, from the usage, that there was any illegal irregularity in the proceedings.

The Committee declared the sitting member to be duly elected.

Case of the District of WIGTOWN, WHITEHORN, NEW-GALLOWAY, and STRANRAER.—Petitioner, Henry W. Daffwood, Esq.—Sitting Member William Norton, Esq.

The petition stated, that the delegates for the boroughs of Wigtown, Whitehorn, and Stranraer, met at New Galloway, the presiding borough, and that Alexander Ferguson, Esq. chosen and appointed delegate for the borough of New Galloway, absented himself from the said election, having pretended to resign the office of delegate. That John Newall, Esq. pretending to have been duly chosen delegate for the said borough of New-Galloway, upon such pretended resignation of the said Alexander Ferguson, was admitted to vote, and accordingly did vote for the sitting member. But the petitioners having had the votes of Wigtown and Whitehorn, and Mr. Norton, the legal vote of Stranraer only, had thereby a majority of legal votes, and ought to have been returned.

There

There were two questions in this case, 1. Whether Mr. Newell was duly chosen a delegate for the borough of New-Galloway, and was capable of voting : and 2. Whether a person, not a burgher of any one of the boroughs composing a district, is capable of being elected a burgher to serve in parliament. Mr. Dashwood was not a burgher of either of the four boroughs, and this objection was taken to his eligibility by the counsel for the sitting member.

On the first point it was stated, that Mr. Ferguson was duly chosen the delegate of New-Galloway, agreeable to the statute ; but on the morning of the day of election, a letter was presented to the council of New-Galloway, from Mr. Ferguson, in which he resigned his commission. The council immediately proceeded to the choice of another delegate, and the same people chose Mr. Newell.---But the statute says, that two days should intervene between the meeting for naming the day of election, and the day of election. They urged that Mr. Ferguson could not resign, nor the council chuse another, he was functum officio. Upon the second point it was urged that there was not any positive and direct statute, which enjoined that the burghers for the royal boroughs should be actual burghers in the district. It was the usage indeed that they should be honorary, but honorary burghers can act in no corporate capacity, and are merely nominal. The committee determined that Henry Watkin Dashwood, Esq. was duly elected.
